THE ROBBER
you should fear most is Eye Strain.
Heat attacks you when you are careless and off your guard; when

GUARD YOUR EYES

MANDARINDOM AND THE FAMINE.

A BITTER REPROACH.
THE LAST WORD IN OFFICIAL GUILT.

The following manifesto has been issued by Mr. Sung Huns-ai, the well-known Chinese Radical, to the Foreign Powers. This is the second such statement Mr. Sung has made public and some of the contents of the present document have already appeared in the Chinese press.

SUNG HUNG-AI'S MANIFESTO.

I desire first to state that what I am about to say is not based upon general reports on the condition of the migrating and starving wretches, which has been fully exposed in the newspapers and does not need any repetition on my part. Nor need I implore for relief because such has been done with tenderness by foreign friends and has already obtained the unanimous expression of thanks of the Chinese people.

But what I want to discuss now is the fundamental plan for the salvation of the entire nation; that is, the plan for eradicating the cause and remedy for the calamities besetting the nation now and in the future.

NINE YEARS OF CORRUPTION.

China was put into a state of chaos by the late Yuan Shih-kai through the pecuniary aid of the Powers. Yuan Shih-kai was also assisted by foreigners. Since then Hsu Shih-chang and Chin Yung-peng have been befriended by our friendly countries. Therefore the people full of resentment, sadness, and indignation, infer that it is the misplaced help of the Powers which has brought upon the country the past and present disasters. I admit that it is becoming a habit to blame others, but I think that those who love righteousness and humanity should not continue to deal with a few robbers whom they allow to indulge themselves while the rest of mankind is driven to starvation.

The revolution in China is not yet accomplished. During the past nine years corrupt officials and militarists, despite the fact that the country is a Republic, have usurped the government, indulged in military contention, betrayed the country, and robbed the people. Consequently, the lives and property of the people have been victimized by these evil-doers. The present famine is only another indication of this tendency.

Drought has existed in the northern provinces for over a year and thousands of acres of land have been laid bare. When such a thing happened in olden days, the despotic government, if somewhat enlightened, would work out a plan for preventing famine. On the other hand the present government—self constituted—has busily pursued private interests. Was there anyone who two months ago uttered a single word about famine prevention? When the famine reached such dimensions that the deceased were everywhere visible, had it not been for the outcry of the people and the foreigners for relief, even a mandate for almsgiving with the haughty voice of an imperial edict could not have been obtained. Even as to almsgiving it is not the few words of "raising relief funds" broadly stated in the mandate that suffice to cover the whole question. For, the wretched number about thirty million. How many can be fed, granting that $100,000,000 could be raised?

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN DONE.

Moreover, distinction should be made between the families who are to be classified into the upper, middle and lower class, and between individuals, old, strong and weak. The beggars who are destitute of everything, having their own fate to charity, are, of course, not few, but those who have money but no bread, and those who have real property but no money can be seen everywhere. When the famine first became apparent, to distribute food supplies and money should have been the most urgent task of the Government. For the distribution of money we should have adopted a plan like that generally practised by agricultural banks, that is to say, accept the farmer's lands as pledges at a very low interest. For distributing food supplies the Peking Government should have encouraged the food merchants or organized an institution of a gigantic scale for transportation. Cattle should have been retained for the farmers and corn seeds and other cereals should have been supplied them. In a word, a systematic scheme should have been worked out. This done, the people and officials could work, each in his own way, towards the same object.

As the plan is not altogether on a charity basis, it is not absolutely necessary to raise a huge fund. In reality, we can survive the death path by a single movement, but those who talked about raising a big fund every day did not know what to do. The result is that rice-robbing has occurred everywhere and those with means have fallen into the same state as those destitute, and the disaster has so multiplied as to go also beyond the range of human power to remedy.

THE BENEFIT OF FAVOURITES.

In China, whenever a design is carried out, its object is used to benefit favourites and abuse the public fund. Now Hsu Shih-chang has ordered the establishment of a Famine Relief Institution, appointed a lot of officers and planned to make foreign loans. His object is in like manner only to create a method through which favourites may get wealth and promotion and nothing to do with public welfare.

China, in fact, is not a poor country; only the Government and the masses are poor. The officials and militarists have all enriched themselves. (Here follows a list of the fortunes of leading officials.—Ed.)

In a word, the total booty secured by the officials and militarists through squeezing the people and selling the country may be estimated at not less than one billion dollars. Usually one banquet of the one or one gambling stake or one debauchery costs as much as is sufficient to feed several hundred wretched families for one day. If one-tenth or one-fifth of their hoard be given away, the necessities for the present and all arrangements for the future may be carried into effect in a moment.

NEW INDUSTRIES IN MALAYA.

A NEW MOTOR FUEL.

We have seen reports lately of several new industries being started, or contemplated, in Malaya.

The latest enterprise under consideration is the manufacture of a motor fuel from the nipa palm. A representative of the Natalite Motor Spirit Co. of South Africa, Ltd., is at present in the Malay States in connection with the enterprise. "I am here," he told a representative of the Malayan Leader, "to get, if I can, certain concessions from the Government so that we can start the manufacture of Natalite in this country. The important thing is that in this country there is an abundance of the nipa palm, from which alcohol is extracted. Alcohol and other form about 90 per cent. of Natalite. You know that alcohol can be extracted from most materials—molasses, cane sugar, sorghum, wheat, oats, barley, maize, kaffir corn, potatoes, beet, sawdust, prickly pear, wood, fruit, vegetables, honey and palm trees—but few people know that a greater quantity of alcohol can be extracted from the nipa palm, with the additional recommendation that it is not necessary to destroy the tree—as one would destroy the sugarcane—to get the alcohol. The alcohol can be extracted by means of tapping, just as the rubber tree is tapped. (There are hundreds of acres of nipa in this country. All we have got to do is to get the permission to tap it. Besides, there are thousands and thousands of nipa palms in Borneo and Sumatra, and from Malaya I am going to those countries on a similar mission. If we are successful, we hope to commence the actual manufacture of Natalite within nine months. The manufacture of this new motor fuel has been protected by patent rights in every country in the world, and our Company has the rights for Borneo, the Dutch East Indies and British Malaya. When asked whether Natalite had been thoroughly tested Col. Fitz-Gerald, replied: "The Federal Bureau of Science and Industry of Australia said recently of Natalite: 'The patent was taken out in 1914 for a fuel called Natalite. The fuel was tried in an official test by the Royal Automobile Club of London, and it was reported that it was equal to every way to petrol. It can be used in a petrol engine without adjustment, gives the same, or a better mileage, start even more easily from cold than petrol, and gives a sweeter running and less carbon deposit. The addition of ammonia is made to neutralise any acetic acid formed in the exhaust gases.'"

It is rumored that Bryant and May, Ltd. intend to set up a factory in the F.M.S. for the manufacture of safety matches. This well-known Company is said to be attracted to the mountains of Malaya by the wood which is so excellent for match-making purposes that it is expected to cut out Sweden in the export trade.

THE MINING CRISIS.

F.M.S. GOVERNMENT DECIDES TO PURCHASE OUTPUTS.

The Kuala Lumpur papers are officially informed that the Government of the Federated Malay States has arranged to purchase tin at a price, to commence with, of $110 per picul of tin, or such other price as may from time to time be fixed, until further notice.

The Straits Trading Company and the Eastern Smelting Company will act as agents on behalf of the Government and will conduct purchases.

A NOVEL APPLICATION.

The following application was sent to the Head of a Government Department whose identity is disclosed in the last line, says the Sarawak Gazette.

Sir—Now I am coming to your Department and asking a work from the Manager. I know the English a little bit. I want to work in Printing office as a clerk. I came from India to live in this country. I am now at the Lower Secondary School. Now I want to ask the Manager to help me in this time. I can remember as my life time. If the Manager kindly help me, I can be my best strength for my work. In this time I am very difficult to find job. But in this country nobody for me to help. I have got wife. How can I support myself. Please require my few lines and help me as my life.

Now I am sending my best compliments to your great feet.

MAKE THE MANDARINS DISGORGED.

Therefore, to raise a loan or to collect subscriptions is not a necessity. For the time being, the only way is to displace the officials and militarists from the government, and refund to the people what has been robbed from them. This undertaking, of course, depends on the endorsement of the people themselves, but I still hope the patriotic friends to China will through the impulse of saving a neighbour from famine clearly understand that Hsu Shih-chang and his government are not qualified to represent the Chinese Republic and are the principal causes of the famine disasters.

I request, then, to withhold any loan for industry or disbanding soldiers as a pretext for political dealings. Also that the people in their revolution so that they may reconstruct a good government based on their own will. Then in the twinkling of an eye the several tens of millions of wretches will revive. Hereafter, the people will be in a position to drive out dirty politics and promote beneficial activities. Then the favour of our friendly countries extended to China will be particularly continuous and not for a particular case, as though given only for charitable work.

THE CONSORTIUM

VARIOUS JAPANESE COMMENT.

JAPAN'S GREAT SACRIFICES DEPRECATED.

ASIA FOR THE BANKERS, NOT FOR ASIATICS.

The "Great Magnanimity of Japan" is the caption under which the Tokyo Nichi Nichi comments on the simultaneous statement published by the Governments of Japan, Britain, America, and France, on November 20th, announcing the formation of the new Consortium for China. After briefly analysing the contents of the document our contemporary proceeds to say that the statement is extremely abstract and very unsatisfactory to those who want to know the full details of the Consortium arrangement signed in New York on October 15th. In view of the fact that a great deal of discussion is now going on in China on the question of the Consortium, the Governments and banking groups of the four Powers ought to have disclosed the contents of the agreement without reserve and furnished the Chinese public with data on which to weigh the advantages and disadvantages of the whole scheme; and it passes comprehension why they should be content to publish a statement so vague and mystifying. "In Japan too," the Tokyo journal goes on to say, "everybody wants to know exactly how matters stand on the question of the exclusion of Manchuria and Mongolia from the scope of the Consortium, but no light has been thrown by the statement on this point. So far as we are aware, the most important feature of the New York arrangement was the concrete surrender of certain vested interests by the capitalist syndicates of the Powers concerned. If so, the Japanese Government ought to have published the result and made known to the nation how the question of the reservation of Manchuria and Mongolia had been finally dealt with. So far as we have been able to ascertain the vested interests which have been surrendered by the Powers are:—

Britain—Fukow-Hsinyang Railway (350 miles), Nanking-Changsha-Chientsien Railway (643 miles) and Shashi-Hsinyang Railway (780 miles).
America—Chochou-Chinchou (605 miles), Chochou-Kou-Hsinyang (about 200 miles), and Canal Loan.
France—Chinchou-Yunnan and Yunnan-Chungking Railways (1,400 miles).

Japan—Tsinan-Shuntze Railway (120 miles), Koami-Hsuehchow (210 miles), Taonan-Johol Railway (470 miles), and also a line branching from this line to a certain sea port.

Britain, America and France—Part (570 miles) of Wuchang-Canton Railway (710) and Hankow-Kueichow Railway (mileage unknown).

The Powers which surrendered their vested interests outright were Britain and Japan; America and France having agreed to the arrangement subject to a reservation, the former because the negotiations with Messrs. Siemens, Carey and Co., the party to the American contracts, had not been fully concluded, and the latter because the Banque Industrielle de Chine, the party to the French contracts, was not included in the banking group. The attitude of the representatives of the Japanese banking group, in particular, was rather too far, and how conciliatory they were is clearly evidenced by the fact that Mr. Lamont thought it fit to write a letter of thanks to President Inoue of the Bank of Japan. It is rather odd that Japan, which had been so moved for her reservations since the Paris Conference, should have been so reserved in this instance. In this way Japan has surrendered not merely the Tsinan-Shuntze and Kaomi-Hsuehchow lines, which are extensions of the Shantung line, but even the Taonan-Johol line, which is regarded as the most important of the Manchuria and Mongolian railways, the only railways which have been reserved in Japanese hands as a result of the great fuss made about the reservation of Manchuria and Mongolia being merely branch or feeding lines of the South Manchuria Railway such as the Kirin-Hui (277 miles), Kai Hai (123 miles), Kirin-Hai (110 miles) and Changchung-Taonan (180 miles) railways. These lines have been excluded, not because Britain, America and France have accepted Japan's contention for the reservation of Manchuria and Mongolia, but because they have remained from insisting on their surrender on the consideration that they vested rights which Japan has already started to work. The question has been satisfactorily settled, as Mr. Lamont puts it, because Japan has been wise and far-sighted enough to withdraw her claim for the reservation of Manchuria and Mongolia. The disinterestedness and magnanimity of the Japanese Government in this connection would elicit our admiration were it not for the too great sacrifice made by it in the interest of co-operation with the other Powers.

ASIA FOR ASIATICS.

The Kokumin considers the statement under consideration a mere formal announcement, which, unaccompanied as it is by any informal explanation either by the diplomatic authorities or the banking group concerned, throws no light either on the substance of the so-called New York conference or on the nature of the railway and other sacrifices offered by the Empire to the Consortium. Proceeding, the journal says: "That particular stress is laid by the statement on the construction of means of traffic and communication in China and nothing else is mentioned is perhaps because the management of a Consortium, organised ostensibly in the interests of China, thought it politic to keep other details secret in view of the growing opposition with which the Consortium is received in China.

It is all very well for the Consortium to say that it will help promote the unification and stabilisation of China, but China will not welcome such intervention because it really means alien financial control, for which, however, China has nobody to blame but herself. It is further stated that the Consortium will give each nation wider scope of activity than before and offer equal opportunities for individual enterprises. In that case it is evident that it involves the abolition of spheres of influence and special concessions. This is the reason why the nation is particularly anxious to know the details of the Consortium agreement. The Empire, which on geographical, historical and racial grounds used to have special political and economic interests and influence, China, now stands on an equal footing with Britain and France. And over and over again Japan is surrendering a great many railways and other valuable concessions. This is because Japan trusts that the other Powers will act by her as fairly and squarely as she is resolved to do by them. It would be a serious thing to Japan if the peaceful development of Japanese in South China was hindered notwithstanding that British and American enterprises were enabled to go on unhindered in Manchuria and Mongolia. As regards the relations between individual enterprises and the Consortium, the matter is still extremely vague and undefined despite the repeated explanations given by the diplomatic authorities that the Consortium is not going to monopolise all enterprises in China. Although the operations of the Consortium are said to be limited to loans guaranteed by the Chinese authorities, either central or local, and publicly floated, yet in China at present official permission is required for foreign loans for the greater part of railways, mining, water-utilisation and other important undertakings. Enterprises which are wholly unconnected with the Government are limited to joint undertakings of Chinese and foreign capitalists on a small scale, and the like. Anyhow, in case the business of the Consortium prospers by the sincere mutual concession and co-operation of the Powers concerned, there will be a temporary lull in the Far East. This is certainly a way of solving the China problem. But then China will no longer be the China of the Chinese, while Japan is going to have a big international power for her western neighbour. It is a most lamentable development for men who embrace the principle of Asia for the Asiatics.

CO-OPERATION IN PLACE OF COMPETITION.

The Jiji is pleased with the formation of the Consortium and says: "A Consortium of this kind aims at big things, but it is actually concerned with loans alone. In her present situation loans are the most important thing to China, since the unification of the country, restoration of peace, development of civilisation and natural resources—all this depends on whether foreign loans granted to her are skillfully used or otherwise, especially as her finances have ceased to be self-supporting in consequence of many years' misgovernment, and there is little prospect of her being able to extricate herself from her present predicament in the near future. As for the economic operations of the Powers in China, they have so far striven to promote their own interests against each other, the result being an unrelenting competition which, in stead of benefiting them, has deprived them even of those advantages which they might otherwise have enjoyed. If the Powers discontinue such competition and devise means for facilitating economic development under really equal opportunities, and in dealing with Government loans which have intimate connections with that economic development they act in co-operation, instead of each trying to monopolise them against one another, not only will it be a good thing for themselves, but it will be highly advantageous to the Far East, since it will put an end to unnecessary jealousies and suspicions among the Powers, and such disputes are liable to be brought about among them on the slightest provocation.—Japan Chronicle.

CHINESE BANKS FORM GROUP.

A Peking telegram says:—It is stated officially that public opinion regarding the terms put forward by the Consortium is full of grave doubt, and opposed to foreign borrowing. The Chinese banks at various places have, therefore, formed their own group by arrangement effected at Shanghai on the 5th inst. It is asserted that a large sum is available for investment in industrial enterprises, with the stipulations that the money is to be used as specified, and that the security shall be solid.

The Government has agreed that the banks shall supervise the disposition of the funds, and to publish full details of all enterprises thus financed. The Government also declares that Provincial self-government will be enforced during 1921, after which the central and provincial financial administrations will be kept separate.

BOMBAY HOTEL CHARGES.

PASSENGERS' CANVAS CAMP.

A recent Bombay message says:—For the convenience of passengers arriving at Bombay by sea, the Port Trust has erected on the vacant land near Ballard pier a cold weather canvas camp which will accommodate two hundred. The Narimunda will be nearly 800 passengers, and at present there is scarcely a vacant room in all Bombay. The hotels are charging 30 rupees per day for a room if it is booked, whether it is occupied or not. The housing problem in Bombay this cold weather will be even more acute than last year.

SPORT.

FOOTBALL.
UNITED SERVICES LEAGUE.

2/Whitbire..... 2 H.M.S. Carlisle .. 0
H.M.S. Carlisle..... 1 H.M.S. Ambrose .. 0
H.M.S. Tamar..... 3 R.G.A. 1

WILTS. 2 v. "CARLISLE" 0.

The Wilts attacked early, Ashford clearing. The Carlisle then had the best of the exchanges for some time. Play was very fast, and both goals had narrow escapes. Menham sent in a long shot which Barrett attempted to head out, but the ball went out to Amor, who returned to centre, where Ashford kicked to touch. Hands against Amor sent the Carlisle away, but Giles returned. Give and take play followed, each goalkeeper having to clear in turn. The Wilts now pressed. Menham headed in, and Barrett handled in the penalty area. Amor took the kick and sent in a fast low shot that Flood could not reach, thereby opening the score for the Wilts after thirty minutes play. Half-time arrived, the Wilts leading by one goal to nil.

The Wilts re-started and went towards the Carlisle goal where hands against Barrett sent the Wilts well in, but Lucas shot wide. The Carlisle came away and Haves sent in a long shot, the ball skimming the bar. The Wilts came again and Covey, receiving well in, sent in a hot shot that the goalkeeper stopped, but the latter let the ball out of his hands into the net, making the game sure for the Wilts. Ding-dong play followed and off-side play on both sides relieved. From a break away, Brant beat Giles and following up the winger sent over a shot that rolled over the goal line. Off-side against Menham well in returned the ball to midfield, when the whistle sounded for time leaving the Wilts winners of a hard and fast game by 2 goals to nil.

Mr. Pragnell was in charge of the game.

"CARLISLE" 1 v. "AMBROSE" 0.

The Ambrose turned out without Savage, his place being taken by Beardall. The Carlisle started the game and went away where Woodruffe returned, Monkhouse sending in a shot that Hardy turned round the post. Hilton took the corner and placed well in, Hardy punching out. The Carlisle then went away, and got well down, where Cook beat Harwood with a beautiful cross-shot. From the centre kick, the Ambrose got away on right and Beardall centred, South clearing. The Carlisle transferred the game to the other end where Wetherby sent in wide, and the Ambrose returned and Beardall centred back, where Davidson cleared. This spoilt a good chance for the Ambrose as all the forwards were well up but the ball came over behind them. Half-time arrived with the Carlisle leading by one to nil. Give and take play was the feature of the second-half. No further scoring took place and a very even game ended in the Carlisle winning by the only goal scored. Sergeant worked hard, but the Ambrose forwards could not get going. Savage was missed on the right wing.

Mr. Wells was in charge of the game.

"TAMAR," 3 v. R.G.A., 1.

At Sookunpoo the sailors won this game by 3 goals to 1. In the opening minutes of the game Henwood and Castle went to head the ball at the same time and Henwood was forced to leave the field. With ten men at R.G.A. got well in, and Deggrell sent in a shot that struck the cross-bar and rebounded to Best, who kicked over the top. At the other end the Tamar forced a corner, which the R.G.A. cleared. Henwood returned after ten minutes' absence. The Tamar went away and Styles, receiving from the right, headed the ball passed Smith, giving the Tamar the lead after 20 minutes' play. From the centre-kick the R.G.A. forced a corner, the Tamar clearing. Heaps receiving sent across and McSwiney sent in a high shot that beat Smith and placed the Tamar further ahead. From the centre-kick the Tamar came again, and Smith, running out to receive a forward pass, was beaten by McSwiney, who sent the ball into an empty goal. Half-time arrived with the Tamar leading by 3 goals to nil. Re-starting, the R.G.A. pressed for a time. From a break away Henwood sent in a long shot which struck the cross-bar and rebounded to Deggrell, who headed passed Powell. Following a free kick for a foul against Styles, the R.G.A. went away where McHugh forced a corner. Wilson placed well and Best sent straight to the goalkeeper, who cleared. Time arrived with the Tamar winners of a hard game.

Mr. Jones was the referee.

HOCKEY.

H.B.C. v. NAVY.

An interesting match took place yesterday on the U.S.R.O. ground, at Kowloon, between the Hongkong Hockey Club and a combined Naval team and ended in a draw, the score being one all.

The following will represent the O.R.O. in the above League match on Saturday on the University ground:—Ng See Kwong (capt), Ua Hew Fan, Wei Wing Lok, Chos Man Ping, Shin Man Ping, Hung Man To, Goo Lee, H. Chang, James Wong, Lo Man Fan and Lai Kun.

INTERPORT CRICKET.

THE SHANGHAI CLUB'S APPRECIATION.

Mr. L. S. Greenhill, Hon. Secretary of the Hongkong Cricket Club, sends us the following copy of a letter received from Shanghai, the last paragraph of which will no doubt be of special interest, and serve, it may be hoped, to keep up interest in cricket during the remainder of the season:—

Shanghai Cricket Club,
Shanghai, 8th December, 1930.

F. Maitland Esq.,
President,

Hongkong Cricket Club.

DEAR MAITLAND,—On behalf of the team we sent to Hongkong and all the members of the Shanghai Cricket Club, I wish to thank you and all those who so greatly assisted to give our fellows such an enjoyable time, and I can assure you they have all returned expressing their high appreciation of the kindness shown to them during their stay in Hongkong.

The matches played during your Cricket Carnival resulted in most interesting games, and you are much to be congratulated on the fine results. We are all very pleased with the performance of the eleven we were able to send, but you well know how difficult it is to get a representative team to play away from home.

I can assure you a cordial welcome is extended to the Hongkong Cricket Eleven, who, we hope, will be able to arrive in Shanghai some time in May next year.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) A. P. WOOD,
President.

DEVELOPMENTS AT THE HONGKONG HOTEL.

ROOF GARDEN AND STAGE.

Great improvements are under consideration at the Hongkong Hotel. The principal feature of the scheme is to construct a huge ball room, surrounded by a terrace garden, on the roof, covering an area of 10,000 square feet. The ball room alone will occupy nearly 4,000 square feet. In the larger section of the terrace garden a stage for entertainments and moving picture exhibitions will be provided. Arrangements will be made with important circuits of entertainers to include Hongkong in their itinerary. Alterations of the existing structure will make it convenient for local societies to use the roof garden for arrangement, and for audiences to gain access thereto without passing through the hotel. It is hoped to have these important improvements completed before next winter; the Government has already approved the main lines of the scheme.

It is intended, also, in the near future, to make the ball room at Repulse Bay a great deal larger; the popularity of the floor there often causes the present spacious room to be taxed to the utmost. When the Government has completed its new road the hotel authorities propose to establish a cheap motor-bus service to connect the two hotels and at the same time to supply a public need.

THE MAGISTRACY.

YESTERDAY'S CASES.

A Chinese who was banished from the Colony for ten years on March 10th, 1917, reappeared in Victoria this week and was brought before Mr. G. N. Orme at the Magistracy yesterday on a charge of returning before his term had expired. He was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment. A long series of thefts were recorded against the man between 1912 and 1916.

A Chinese who imported two tins of German dye without a permit was arrested at Han Tak Wharf and fined $25 at the Magistracy.

A Chinese from the United States had to pay a fine of $150 for bringing into the Colony 250 rounds of ammunition and a revolver. Sergeant Dick arrested the man on Han Tak Wharf.

Before Mr. N. L. Smith, a Chinese boy was charged with obtaining by false pretences twelve tins of condensed milk for a confectioner's shop near the Central market. The boy brought in an order which was afterwards found to be fraudulent. He visited the shop again and the proprietor gave him in charge. A sentence of six weeks' imprisonment was imposed.

The case in which two men on the s.s. Borneo are charged with being unlawfully in possession of a quantity of opium was mentioned at the Magistracy before Mr. G. N. Orme yesterday morning. Mr. A. E. Hall represented one defendant, and Mr. Leo d'Almeida the other, but they had only just been instructed and asked for a remand. Inspector Wilson raised no objection and the case will be taken on Saturday morning.

COLONY'S WATER SUPPLY.

VIEWS OF CHINESE RESIDENTS.

At a meeting of the Chinese residents of the Colony, on Tuesday evening, which was convened by the Kalfongs to discuss the proposed establishment of a general rider main and water meter system of water supply and the proposed amendments of the building regulations, the Hon. Mr. Lay Chu Pak presided.

The Chairman pointed out that the Government was actuated, in its proposal of the establishment of the rider main and water meter system, by motives of economy and of improvement in sanitation but the new system, he thought, would work harshly as far as the Chinese labouring classes were concerned. He admitted waste of water at present, but, among other grounds upon which the protest was based, was the question of who should pay the meter fees, whether the landlord or the tenants. Generally several families lived in a Chinese house and another difficulty arising out of the system was the means of calculating the amount of water used and the fees they should pay. However, he (the Chairman) was glad to be able to say that information obtained from Government quarters indicated that the rider main and meter system of water supply would be abolished and the revenue ($200,000) expected from the scheme would be made good by a slight increase in the rates and taxes.

As there was not a satisfactory attendance of house-owners at the meeting it was decided to call a meeting of house-owners to discuss the amendments of the building regulations.

FAMINE RELIEF BONDS.

The International News Agency says:—

"In order to secure funds for the relief of the famine sufferers in North China the Government is contemplating the issue of domestic bonds. In this connection some preliminary measures have been drawn up. The loan will be floated under the supervision of the Ministries of Finance and of the Interior and the Famine Relief Department, and will be secured on the revenues to be brought by the imposition of a ten per cent. tax in the provinces. Each province shall buy these bonds in proportion to the amount of revenues to be collected from the imposition of extra tax in that province which will be deposited with the Government banks for the payment of capital and interest due on the bonds. The imposition of this extra tax will be enforced for one year and the loan will be entirely refunded within three years from the date of issue. As money is needed immediately for relieving the sufferers, while the collection of the extra tax takes much time, the Government plans to make arrangements with the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications for an advance to meet immediate requirements. It is understood that the Ministry of Finance, Ministry of the Interior and the Famine Relief Department are consulting the bank authorities and that special delegates will be deputed to the provinces to take up the matter with the Chiefs of the Provincial Financial Bureau and the native bankers."

AN INSURANCE CLAIM.

PLAINTIFFS FAIL TO APPEAR.

At the Supreme Court yesterday a case came up for hearing in the Court of the Chief Justice in which the Sang Kéo firm sued the China Fire Insurance Co., the North China Fire Insurance Co., Ltd., and the Employers Assurance Co., Ltd., for $24,985, insurance money, in respect of a fire that occurred on the plaintiff's premises at 5, Whitfield Street, on June 30th, 1920, when cassia, tea and sugar cargoes on the premises were destroyed.

Messrs. Lo and Lo were the solicitors for the plaintiffs, but as the plaintiffs were not present or represented, Mr. C. G. Alabaster (instructed by Messrs. Deacon, Looker, Deacon and Harrison) moved the Court to strike the case out.

Mr. Alabaster explained that the procedure at home in the matter was slightly different from that obtaining here. At home the practice was ordered 36, Rule 32, which would entitle the defendants to judgment at once. The local practice was to allow the defendants to have the case struck out.

His Lordship said he would strike out the case, and if it was put down for hearing four days' notice would have to be given.

WHITE AUSTRALIA.

NEW RULES FOR CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

The following statement from the Chinese Press will, if true, be read with much interest:—

"Through the efforts of Mr. Wei Tse-chun, the Chinese Consul-General in Australia, an arrangement has been arrived at with the Australian immigration authorities whereby Chinese merchants' families and students may be permitted to land in Australia."

"Chinese students have been allowed to remain in Australia for an unlimited number of years provided they do not carry on any activities other than study. Failure to comply with these rules means deportation."

"Families of Chinese merchants (who have hitherto been prohibited from landing) may be allowed to land provided they produce regular passports issued by the Chinese Government. In case of the death of the merchants, the Chinese Government will be responsible for the repatriation of the widows and children."

"Chinese travellers will be permitted to stay in Australia for one year provided the applicant is able to produce a Chinese passport issued by the British Consul at the port of embarkation in China."

KOREAN OUTLAWS OF CHIANTAO.

CHRISTIANS CHARGED WITH REBEL PLOTTING.

TOKIO, December 7th.

A despatch from Hunchun, dated December 4th, states that the armed organizations of Korean malecontents in the Hunchun and Chientao districts have now been broken up, according to Japanese military officials there, though it has not yet been determined whether they have been sufficiently scattered and disorganized to prevent their reconcentration.

As a consequence, there have been only two clashes in the Chientao district recently. One occurred in the vicinity of Santakou and Lushou, 45 miles southwest of Lungshinguan, the other in a thick forest in the Chirsun district, 45 miles west of Mushanhsien. Both lasted several days in severe cold, the Koreans fighting strenuously from their places of concealment in the forest.

JAPANESE LOSSES.

The Japanese lost a number of men in these operations, and they were forced to cut an ammunition road through the woods. Among the arms and supplies which they captured were three machine-guns and 500 infantry rifles. The latter are of Russian manufacture, while the origin of the machine-guns has been ascertained by the numbers and marks upon them as follows:—One is a Lewis type, made by the Savage Arms Company of Utica, N.Y., and similar to those manufactured for the British army. The second is a Lewis, 1914 Birmingham model, and bears a French inscription, denoting Belgian ownership. The third is a 1914 Browning marked "belonging to Great Britain" in Russian.

According to documents which were seized, the Koreans have purchased a total of 3,500 rifles, 55 machine-guns and 1,500 grenades from the Bolsheviks, and have also raised a war fund of ¥500,000.

CHURCH BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

Reports received at the headquarters of the Canadian Presbyterian Mission show that over 130 houses, including some church and school buildings, have been burned in the course of punitive operations, while about 80 Koreans have been executed. The Japanese leaders explain that they have definite proof that these buildings were used for revolutionary purposes.

The Japanese burned a non-Christian village near Paikumpian, where 70 villagers were shot. The Japanese report that these gave false information regarding the passage of Korean forces, with the result that the Japanese were ambushed when they entered the forest. This "traitorous attitude" on the part of the Koreans is compared with the accurate information given by the residents of another Christian village, who notified the Japanese that a band of Koreans was waiting in a neighbouring forest, and in effect another surprise.

Among the Koreans executed was the secretary of the Paikumpian Presbyterian Church, who was captured and shot along with seven others.—Reuter.

BRITISH EDUCATIONAL PROPAGANDA IN CHINA.

In the suggestion which has been made by the China Association in London that, following the example of the United States, Great Britain should divert $100,000 a year from the Boxer indemnity to the maintenance of Chinese students in England, the Colony of Hongkong might well have something to say. While we are interested in this effort to extend the facilities for the education of Chinese students in Great Britain, we should like very much to know what the Imperial Government is prepared to do to support British educational efforts in the Far East. We have had occasion to point out that the taxpayers of the Colony of Hongkong have recently had to shoulder the burden of close on two million dollars to place the finances of the local University on a satisfactory basis. There is great danger, we think, of the University, from the point of view, at least, of financial support, becoming regarded as entirely the concern of the Colony of Hongkong. We consider it to be the duty of the Colonial Government to take advantage of every occasion that may arise to impress the fact that the University is intended to serve an Imperial rather than a purely local purpose, and we suggest that it is advisable to make representations on this subject to the Foreign Office to whom, presumably, the memorandum of the China Association in London has been addressed. It was never contemplated, of course, that the University should become a charge on the finances of the Colony to the extent it has been this year, but although the University is open to and patronised by students from various parts of China, as well as from the Straits Settlements and Siam, there is no national or municipal Government outside Hongkong which gives it any substantial financial assistance. Of course, the hope is always cherished that the University will have its endowment increased from time to time by private munificence so that it may never again have to come to the Colonial Government for assistance from the public funds of the Colony, or lack the funds necessary for its natural expansion.

At the last Congress of the Associated British Chambers of Commerce in China a resolution was passed urging upon British merchants the necessity for unified effort to ensure the adequate maintenance and development of British educational and medical work in China, in view of its importance from a national standpoint. We do not know whether there is any kind of co-operation between the Chambers of Commerce and the China Association in London in this connection. We have seen only the bare resolutions passed by the Commercial Congress at Shanghai, and nothing of the discussion which, we understand, took place. We have no idea to what extent, if any, the Hongkong University would benefit financially by such a scheme as that adumbrated in the resolution passed by the Congress, except by the increasing accession of students which may be expected from the British schools giving a higher secondary education to Chinese students, which it is proposed to specially support. Another principal object is to assist British medical missions in their present financial difficulties, due to unfavourable exchange rates and other difficulties which threaten to interfere seriously with their philanthropic work in China. The resolution contemplates an appeal to members of the Associated Chambers for contributions towards these objects, and the appointment of a Central Committee to allocate the funds subscribed, which will be paid into a central fund at Shanghai. In the present state of our knowledge of the scheme we are unable to estimate what degree of permanence it would possess if it depends entirely on voluntary contributions obtained from year to year, or even to estimate the possible scope of its operations; but the thought obtrudes itself that with the Associated Chambers working a scheme for the support of British schools giving a high-class secondary education, a source of possible support on which the University might reasonably have counted, would become exhausted. If any allocation is made from the Boxer indemnity for educational purposes the special claims upon it of the Hongkong University should not be overlooked. The University ought not to be regarded as an institution for which the Colony of Hongkong should become financially responsible.

It is stated that members of the Yokohama German Club have recently purchased a new site of a club building, in the name of a Japanese lawyer, for Yen 40,000.

We are asked to remind our readers of the Popular Lecture to be given by Mr. A. H. Crook, M.A., F.R.G.S., at the Helena May Institute, on Friday next, at 8.30 p.m.

"They have a pretty wit in the Federated Malay States." At the St. Andrew's Ball at Ipoh a gentleman described himself on his card as "my wife's vulgar fraction," while the lady described herself as "my husband's better half." The local paper inquired why the charming little "decimal point" was left at home.

The death has taken place, in Japan, of Mrs. Hodges, who went to Japan in the early days of foreign residence with her husband, the late Mr. Geo. Hodges, one of the bodyguard of Sir Harry Parkes, Britain's first Minister to Japan.

In the new Japanese budget a large sum has been allotted, out of the total of Yen 15,000,000 for Kwantung, to the defensive equipment for the Manchurian Railway. The budget for Saghalien will amount to Yen 13,000,000, including the appropriation for the harbour works.

Mrs. McCauley, the wife of Lieut. Commander C. McCauley, U.S.N., who is now in Shanghai, has been sworn in as a lawyer at the United States Court. She has thus the distinction of being the first woman lawyer admitted to practise in the Settlement. Mrs. McCauley graduated at Texas University. Her husband is of court-martial duty in Shanghai.

Following the example of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, Ju Seisai, a Korean who had been detained by the Zuiho procurator, has committed suicide by abstaining from food for 13 days, according to a dispatch to the Yomiuri from Seoul. He was charged with connection with the Korean Independence Movement. Seisai's death is the first example of the hunger strike in the Far East in modern times.

The P. and T. Times received the following telegram from Changteh, dated 5th December: "Four days ago robbers attacked a village fifteen miles from this city, indiscriminately shooting everyone in sight, resulting in 23 deaths and three wounded. A neighbouring village had 14 deaths and three wounded. The reason was revenge, because eight months ago the villagers informed against these robbers. An influential home was also visited and three men killed or wounded. Until such conditions of society are changed famine relief can be carried on only with great difficulty.—Griffith."

According to the Malayan Leader: "It is no exaggeration to say that during the past two months every business house in Malaya has been seriously concerned about its own stability, and most of them gravely affected. THE RIGHTS OF WIVES. ANOMALIES OF THE LAW OF PROPERTY.

Mrs. Fawcett presided recently at the first of a series of seven lectures on the economic independence of women in the labour market, which are being held at the Women's Institute, 92, Victoria Street. They are preceded by an informal reception by the president and members of the National Union of Societies for Equal Citizenship.

Miss Smith pointed out that the present Married Women's Property Act had many flaws, and it was time that there was a new one, which might be partly on the lines of the present Bill to amend the law in Scotland. A wife's credit at present was obviously limited by her limited liability to pay; by will she could dispose only of her separate estate and not of any money that might be coming to her. The savings from her housekeeping accounts were not legally hers. If a child under 21 died, the property went to the father, and a husband was under no legal obligation to provide for his wife. Theoretically a wife was always maintained by her husband, but in practice it was extremely difficult to secure this right and without going to the higher judicial Court a woman, even if she had 12 children, could not obtain more than 40s. a week from her husband. A married woman was not the legal custodian of her own children; she was only the father's agent, and the fact that the father cannot divest himself of his rights is one of the difficulties with which people adopting children are faced. A curious anomaly was the fact that up to 1870 a woman, though she had few other rights, had the right to choose her own nationality, but this was taken away when her position in other ways improved, and she was forced to take that of her husband.

In the House of Commons on November 1st, Mr. T. Morrison, Lord Advocate, moved the second reading of the Married Women's Property (Scotland) Bill. He said that in Scotland a wife was still subject to the husband's right of administration, and all transactions in regard to her separate estate, with a small exception, required his consent. The husband must be called to any suit in which she was sued, and in general his concurrence was required to any action raised at her instance. The Bill removed from married women all disabilities at present affecting them in regard to their own estates, and placed them in the same position as married men were in regard to their estates.

Sir F. Bannister asked why the Bill was confined to Scotland. Why was a Scottish husband who was unable to maintain himself to be supported by his wife, whilst an English husband was not?

Mr. Morrison said that under the law of England a woman who had an estate was bound to feed the parish from the maintenance of her husband. Under Scottish law a married woman had been under no such obligation.

The Bill was read a second time.

HOW KINGS HAVE DIED.

King Alexander of Greece is probably the first monarch who came to his end by the bite of a monkey, but the occurrence recalls the fact that even kings have met death in as great a variety of forms as any class of human beings.

Comparatively few, especially in the good old days, were able to lie on their bed as did "the Merrie Monarch" when he made to his assembled courtiers the apology, as witty as it was gracious, "I am afraid, gentlemen, I am an unconsciously long time a-dying."

Priam, the last King of Troy, a venerable figure in the twilight dawn of history, was stabbed by Achilles on the altar of Jupiter. Xerxes was murdered by Artabanus in 465 B.C., and Ptolemy XIII of Egypt was drowned in the Nile while endeavouring to escape from the Roman legions.

Stranger still was the death of Nitocris, Queen of Egypt. Herodotus relates that she destroyed by craft many of the Egyptians. It was an act of vengeance. Her brother had been murdered, and Nitocris caused an underground chamber to be constructed, and invited thither her brother's murderers to a sumptuous feast. While they were feasting she let the waters of the river into the hall by a secret conduit, and drowned them all. To escape the vengeance of the populace the queen threw herself into a room full of hot embers.

CLASSIC TRAGEDY.

For high tragedy nothing can approach the manner in which the Roman emperors quitted earth's stage. Julius Caesar was assassinated on the 15th of March in 44 B.C., Iulianus was suffocated, Claudius was poisoned by his wife, and Commodus by his favourite mistress. Galba was slain by the praetorian guard; Caligula, after having declared himself to be a god, was murdered; while Nero committed suicide to save himself from the hands of the executioners.

Our English kings died from various causes. Edward the Martyr was stabbed at Corfe Castle. Hardeknute died of overeating at a wedding feast. William I. and William III. died as the result of falling from their horses. Henry Beauclerc fell a prey to his gluttony, and Henry II. died of a broken heart when he found his favourite son John plotting against him. Edward II. and Richard II. were murdered in prison. Edward V. was smothered in the Tower, and the hapless Charles I. ended his days on the scaffold at Whitehall.

Robert Bruce, the victor of Bannockburn, died of leprosy. St. Louis of France was stricken with plague, and Louis "the well-beloved" from smallpox. Louis XVI. and his Queen Marie Antoinette met death by the guillotine amid the terrors of the French Revolution.

King Alexander of Serbia and his Queen Draga were brutally murdered in their palace at Belgrade. King Humbert of Italy was shot by Bresci, an Anarchist, at Monza. King Carlos of Portugal was shot in the streets of Lisbon, while King George of Greece—grandfather of the king whose tragic death has just been announced—met a similar fate at Salonika.

The whole grim story affords no equal to the royal tragedy in Eastern Russia which ended the proud dynasty of the Romanoffs.

LENIN'S COURIER SENTENCED.

"BRITISH RED ARMY" PLANS

The mysterious foreigner who was arrested the previous week with documents in his possession addressed from members of the revolutionary party in Great Britain to persons connected with the Soviet Government in Russia appeared before Sir Charles Biron at Bow-street Police Court on November 2nd. He at first refused to disclose his name or give any account of himself, but it was now stated that he had given the name of Erik Veithem, described himself as of Finnish nationality, and refused his address.

A further charge was made against him under the Aliens Order, 1920, of failing to produce his certificate of registration or identity book, in addition to the two charges preferred the previous week of failing to register as an alien and failing to answer questions reasonably put to him by a police officer.

Mr. Muskett prosecuted on behalf of the police. The prisoner, who was not legally represented, elected to be dealt with summarily by the Magistrate on all three charges.

Mr. Muskett read extracts from some of the documents found on the prisoner. He said that in one of the letters from Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, addressed to Zinoviev, a member of the Revolutionary Government of Moscow, there occurred the passage:—

"The Communist Parties are not large enough on the continent of Europe to make capital out of the situation. We are talking of a Communist Council of Action. Colonel Malone, with whom I have just been speaking, and who is a member of the Executive of the Communist Party (B.S.P.), tells me that his Executive does not wish to join with us or other parties, but to absorb us."

There was also, said Mr. Muskett, a postscript which referred to an amount of £2,000, said to have been promised to Sylvia Pankhurst on behalf of the III. International at Moscow. A number of details were given as to how that amount was approximately arrived at. The items included:

£8 a week, organizer for seaports for six months—£192; £8 a week, organizer for Army work for six months—£192; £10 a week, six months' illegal literature—£280.

With reference to the document in cipher, referred to at the previous hearing, Mr. Muskett said that this had now been decoded and found to read as follows:

"I am writing to you, Mr. Muskett, to inform you that I have successfully Ireland to start party, etc., or negotiate Republican mission without money. Present using £200 sent to Irish unions while waiting news. Lent Lanner £70 to run his paper. Instruct us how obtain money by our note from Kobietsky or instruct representatives here help us immediately. Consult Rosenberg, Foreign Office, and send news re exchange of Larkin. Reply J. Cowper, 28 Little St. Andrew-street, London, W.C. Oct. 20."

Sergeant Foster said that the person Rosenberg mentioned in the document was an East-end Jew, now occupying a high position in the Foreign Office at Moscow.

Mr. Muskett also referred to another document consisting of 16 pages of typewritten matter addressed to "Louis Fraina, international secretary of the Communist Party of America."

Sergeant Foster said that Fraina was a well-known American revolutionary, and he had reason to believe that that document was written by one Novitsky, a member of the Russian Revolutionary Army. Steps were being taken by the police to find Novitsky.

Mr. Muskett went on to say that the six copies of a training manual which were produced last week had been found to be a manual of course for officers of the British Red Army, and not Russian, as was at first supposed. He also called attention to three other letters. The first was headed "Lecture 7. Defence of a Factory," and proceeded: "On taking over a factory, tighten up walls, etc., barbed wire, select shelters for occupying troops while being shelled. Mount machine-guns well hidden. Command all approaches," and so on. Under the heading "Defence of a Mine," which presumably meant a coalmine, similar instructions were given. There were also instructions as to the seizure of banks, post-offices and telephone exchanges.

Another document, added Mr. Muskett, was headed "Statement of Expenditure," and purported to be a statement of expenditure, totalling £2,185, on Lewis guns, machine-guns, bombs, rifles, and so on. In the same envelope there was another document which was called a summary for August, and Yorkshire, the Midlands, Lancashire, and Cheshire were mentioned.

Sergeant Foster said that this was evidently a summary of expenditure on meetings held during August in the provinces. It showed the amounts received in respect of levies, literature, and collection.

Mr. Muskett said that another document headed "Work in the Navy," dealt with steps which the Communist Party had taken to convert the lower naval class into a revolutionary force.

Inspector Wall was called to prove formally that the prisoner had not registered. On being asked what he had to say in his defence, the prisoner read at great length from some closely written manuscript. He had no doubt, he said, that he would be found guilty in the eyes of the law, and of every respectable and pure-minded citizen of Great Britain, but there was another point of view, the Communist point of view; and he wished to explain why he thought that was the right one. He belonged to the great organization known as the Communist International, a party of workers which had sections all over the world. To-day their headquarters were in Moscow, but next year they might move to Berlin, London, Paris, or New York. Before he could proceed to show how this concerned his case he proposed to explain the principles, aims, and objects of the Communist International which aimed to liberate the exploited masses of workers.

The Magistrate.—I don't want to interrupt you, but I cannot listen to a long political speech quite irrelevant to this inquiry. You can say that you failed to comply with the Aliens Act because you were acting in pursuance of some political principle in which you believe. That I understand is your point. I cannot listen to a long lecture on Communism.

The prisoner went on reading for some time, and was again interrupted by the Magistrate, who said:—"I cannot listen to any more of this. I understand you don't dispute that you are an alien, and that you did not in fact register."

The Magistrate.—That is the only thing I am concerned with. You have said quite enough to indicate reasons why you behaved in that way. You cannot give a long political address which is not relevant.

The prisoner.—I am of opinion it is relevant.

The Magistrate.—That is a matter in which you must submit to my ruling. I will give you another 10 minutes.

The prisoner concluded by saying he had acted in the interests of the people and the Communist International, and that although he might be punished, this would not convince him that he had done wrong.

The Magistrate, in giving judgment, pointed out that the prisoner did not dispute the charges at all. He had listened to a long harangue, which did not sound very intelligible, and he had so listened because he was always loth to stop a man who was defending himself from saying anything that he thought material to his case.

The only relevant inquiries were—Did the prisoner land in this country? and did he comply with the Aliens Act? Mr. Malone had made a grievance about being called as a witness, but there was evidence that the prisoner, who undoubtedly from his own statement was a dangerous revolutionary, was seen to leave Mr. Malone's house, and therefore it would have been supposed that Mr. Malone knew something about him. He, however, said he did not.

It was suggested that the prisoner had slept in Mr. Malone's house, but Mr. Malone said he had no knowledge of that. He (the Magistrate) hoped that was so and that he did not know the man, but he (Mr. Malone) was certainly a necessary witness at that inquiry. The prisoner's defence would have been that he was only 22 years of age, although even that could not be regarded as an answer to such serious charges. He would be sentenced to six months' hard labour, and ordered to pay 10 guineas cost.

The Magistrate added that he would make an order for his deportation.

Mr. Muskett.—Then, perhaps the prisoner will state what his nationality is.

The prisoner.—I am an internationalist. I was born at Holloja, in Finland, on February 25, 1898.

An order was made that the costs should be paid out of a sum of £15 found on the prisoner at the time of his arrest.
